

KYLE EARLEY- BIO

Kyle Earley is an influential strategist with over 15 years of experience in community organizing. Raised in Cleveland, Ohio, Earley is no stranger to the community. His work and activism has taken him across the state of Ohio and the Greater Cleveland area as an Advocate for Justice. His ability to connect with leaders and residents in authentic ways have garnered respect as a trusted voice and advocate for the community. Kyle's work has been noticed by many, affording him a number of awards and recognitions, including, Who's Who in Black Cleveland, Top 50 Influential Leaders, Martin Luther King Jr. Social Justice Award for the State of Ohio, and an Honoree for the Cleveland Cavaliers Black Heritage Celebration. Kyle currently serves as the Founder and CEO of KMotivates, where he leads the non-profit, It's not a Moment, it's a Movement, manages Earley Morning Strategies, and Pastors the church, City of God. As an advocate for mental health and social justice, Kyle has led a variety of initiatives to increase awareness and education for those most impacted by stigma and injustices. He is a graduate of the Black Church Studies Program at Ashland Theological Seminary and currently studying for his Masters in Christian Education.

